

Brief CV

Name/中文姓名	Huan Liu/刘欢	Gender	Female
Title (Pro./Dr.)	Associate Pro.	Country	China
University/Department	Tsinghua University / School of Environment
Research Area	Global and urban multi-scale traffic emissions and atmospheric effects
Huan Liu is a tenured associate professor in Tsinghua University. Her research interest is transportation system related emissions and environmental impacts. She got Bachelor and Ph.D. degree in Tsinghua University in 2004 and 2009, and she served as postdoctoral in CE-CERT, University of California, Riverside and researcher in ISSRC (International Sustainable System Research Center). She was also trained in Oxford University. Dr. Liu chaired several national projects, including National Nature Science Funds projects and etc. She has published more than 50 papers which has been cited 1900+ times, in many high level journals, such as Nature Climate Change, Nature Sustainability, National Science Review, Environ. Sci. Technol., Atmos. Chem. Phys, and etc. Some of her publications were selected by Nature as Research Highlights. She also holds several patents, software copyrights. Meanwhile, she was awarded the “Young Scientist Award (Golden Prize) by the Chinese Society for Environmental Sciences”, “Excellent Young Scientist Award by NSFC”, “Outstanding Science And Technology Youth Award In Marine Field”, “Fok Ying-Tong Education Awards for Young Teachers in the Higher Education Institutions of China ”, “Beijing Nova”, “First Prize for Science and Technology Progress Award of Ministry of Education”, “Second Prize for Science and Technology Progress Award of Hebei Provincial Science and Technology Department ”, “Second Prize for Science and Technology Progress Award of Ministry of Environmental Protection”, “Excellent Environmental Science and Technology Worker of China Environmental Association” and “Science and Technology Award for Chinese Youth of China Environmental Association”.				